

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

THE BOOK OF HOME NURSING. A practical guide for the treatment of sickness in the home. By Frances Campbell. Graduate of St. Barnabas Hospital, Newark, N. J. E. P. Dutton and Company, New York. Price, $1.25.

The Book of Home Nursing is a practical guide to the care, treatment and diet of a sick person, especially written for "those who, knowing absolutely nothing about nursing, still must care for their sick and afflicted." The private duty nurse will find in these pages many good suggestions for her work. The chapters on Home-made Articles and on Keeping Well are peculiarly helpful.

GOD'S MINUTE. A book of daily prayers for home worship by 365 eminent clergymen and laymen. The Vir Publishing Company, Philadelphia. Price 50 cents or 35 cents.

In the midst of worldly cares and business, every one who claims the name of Christian should find time, at least once a day, to talk to the Heavenly Father. This little volume is sent forward to assist those who, either from lack of religious training and experience, or because of an overcrowding of the day's work, may prefer to use a manual to enable them to give reverent expression to their spiritual needs. The prayers are arranged in calendar form, one for each day, and are written by distinguished preachers and laymen. There are also a poem by Clinton Scollard and a prayer by Mrs. Alice Hegan Rice.

WITH THE CHILDREN ON SUNDAYS. By Sylvanus Stall, D.D. Illustrated. The Vir Publishing Company, Philadelphia. Price, $1.50.

It is not often that we are called upon, in these columns, to comment on anything other than our professional literature. Private duty nurses, especially, have use for suggestions for entertainment of convalescing patients. The purpose of the author in the preparation of this book, in its present illustrated and slightly changed form, is to afford an aid in the entertainment of children on Sunday. He introduces the idea of "Playing Church." There are also Old Testament plays, Joseph in the Pit, Daniel in the Lions' Den, etc. Those who are caring for convalescing children will welcome these profitable suggestions. There is nothing controversial in its pages. The full color page pictures and the half-tone illustrations make the book exceedingly attractive.